

Koppers Board Members Named Among WomenInc.'s 2019 Most Influential Corporate Directors

February 11, 2020

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 11, 2020 /PRNewswire/ -- Koppers Holdings Inc. (NYSE: KOP), an integrated global provider of treated wood products, wood treatment chemicals and carbon compounds, is proud to announce that three members of the company's Board of Directors have been named to WomenInc. magazine's 2019 Most Influential Corporate Directors. Those receiving this recognition include Dr. Sharon Feng, Traci L. Jensen and Sonja M. Wilkerson.

"At Koppers, we have a dynamic and diverse board of highly-accomplished leaders whose contributions are vital to our company's success," said Leroy M. Ball, President and Chief Executive Officer. "To have Sharon, Traci, and Sonja spotlighted this way only proves what we already know in that we are fortunate to benefit from their unique perspectives and professional excellence. We congratulate these Board members and are honored to have them as part of our team."

Dr. Feng has served as a member of the Koppers Board since 2009 and is the current chair of the Safety, Health and Environmental Committee. She is Director of Research, Industrial and Packaging Coatings at PPG Industries, a global coatings manufacturer. Dr. Feng has extensive experiences in the chemical industry in the areas of technology innovation, business development in global markets, risk management, and regulatory compliance with an in-depth knowledge of best practices in managing environmental risks.

Ms. Jensen has served as a member of the Koppers Board since 2018. She is Vice President, Global Business Process Improvement at the H.B. Fuller Company, a global adhesives manufacturer. Ms. Jensen's experience in international operations within the chemicals industry includes leadership roles in the areas of manufacturing, sales, marketing, research and development, and human resources.

Ms. Wilkerson has served as a member of the Koppers Board since 2018 and currently chairs the Management, Development and Compensation Committee. She is Executive Vice President & Chief Human Resource Officer at Bloom Energy Corporation, which designs, manufactures and sells solid-oxide fuel cell systems. Ms. Wilkerson has years of global experience in talent management, information technology, facilities management and merger integration.

WomenInc. magazine's winter edition features more than 700 directors serving on the boards of S&P 1000/Mid-Cap publicly held companies. As a leading business magazine reporting on women's success and achievement, the Women Inc.'s Most Influential Corporate Directors issue is the most comprehensive listing of women executives, influencers, and achievers contributing leadership to corporate boards.
